

Intramural Athletics Code of Ethics

Purpose

Athletics and intramural competition are integral parts of education, contributing to physical, social, and moral development. All participants, parents, and spectators must uphold high standards of ethics, sportsmanship, and fair play to create a positive, safe, and respectful environment.

Athlete Responsibilities

- Prioritize academics as the highest responsibility.
- Treat teammates, opponents, coaches, officials, and spectators with respect.
- Compete with integrity and accept officials' decisions.
- Win with character and lose with dignity.
- Refrain from profanity and unsportsmanlike conduct.
- Follow all safety guidelines and program rules.
- Recognize participation is a privilege and represent the school positively.

Parent & Spectator Expectations

- Show respect for all athletes, coaches, officials, and spectators.
- Encourage participants positively without coaching from the sidelines.
- Accept officials' decisions without criticism or derogatory language.
- Support balance between athletics and academics.
- Follow all school and intramural policies.
- Promote a safe and positive environment for all.

Core Principles

All participants are expected to uphold the principles of Trustworthiness, Respect, Responsibility, Fairness, Caring, and Good Citizenship.
